Brief introduction of your research experience:

Dr Pang has been a tutor (now as Assoc. Prof.) in Multimedia University, Faculty of Information Science and Technology since 2002. Her research interests are pattern recognition and image processing. She has about 15-year research experience in these research areas. Her significant performance in the research could be validated through her publication achievement. Over these 15 years, she has published over 60 peer-reviewed research papers. These papers include but not limited to >40 WoS or SCOPUS-indexed journals. In view of her expertise, she serves as an invited reviewer for many international journals and conferences. These include IEEE international conferences and high ranked journals. Besides that, she organized Special Sessions in some international conferences, i.e. the 21st International Conference on Neural Information Processing (ICONIP 2014) as well as the 2015 IEEE International Conference on Signal and Image Processing Application (ICSIPA 2015). On top of this, she also serves as Technical Program Committee (TPC track chair) in the yearly international conference, i.e. International Conference on Information and Communication Technology (ICOICT). Over the last 10 years, she has brought in over RM1.5M in research grants, from collaboration and from national funding sources. In addition, she actively participates in some competitions/exhibitions. She won several national and international awards, such as (1) ITEX Gold and Silver Medal from International Invention, Innovation & Technology Exhibition, ITEX, Malaysia, as well as (2) Gold Award in Open Category, (3) Best of The Best Award in ICT & Multimedia Group, (4) Korea Invention Academy (KIA) Special Award (Korea) from PECIPTA or PERSIDANGAN DAN ESKPO CIPTAAN INSTITUSI PENGAJIAN TINGGI ANTARABANGSA.
